Definition

There is no single, closed definition of bullying. Our policy is intended to cover situations where one or more children (the victims) have their lives made unacceptably unpleasant by the actions of one or more other children (the perpetrators). The Anti-Bullying Alliance defines bullying as the repetitive, intentional hurting of one person or group by another, where there is an imbalance of power. This power imbalance may be physical, social or psychological, and it distinguishes bullying from ordinary disagreements, arguments and behaviour choices.

The Anti-Bullying Alliance goes on to say that the key elements of bullying are:

1. Repetition – Bullying involves repeated actions over time rather than a single incident.

2. Intentionality – The behaviour is deliberate, aimed at causing harm or distress.
3. Power Imbalance – The person or group exerting bullying has more power, which can be physical strength, social influence, or access to embarrassing information.
4. Harm – The actions result in physical, emotional, or psychological damage to the victim.

Types of Bullying:

- Physical: Hitting, kicking, pushing, biting, or other forms of physical aggression
- Verbal: Name-calling, teasing, threats, sarcasm, belittling, or spreading rumours
- Emotional/Psychological: Exclusion, intimidation, manipulation, humiliation, ridicule, or coercion
- Sexual: Unwanted physical contact, inappropriate touching, sexualized comments, or homophobic abuse
- Online/Cyberbullying: Harassment through social media, messaging, sharing harmful content, or social exclusion in digital spaces

All allegations of bullying will be taken seriously at St. Peter's and all allegations will be listened to.

Following this, school will act proportionally to address the bullying.

At St. Peter's, whilst most children experience few, if any, difficulties, occasionally some children can experience repeated, deliberate verbal, physical or psychological actions by perpetrators. The experience of the victim is very real: their feelings may include feeling alone, saddened, frightened, helpless or vulnerable, and these feelings may manifest themselves at home and at school.

Bullying behaviour may be experienced at any time; in the playground, in the dining hall, or even (very subtly) in the classroom. Increasingly, children may also be at risk of being bullied via text messaging and social media.

Bullying is a subjective experience and can take many forms, making it extremely difficult to define. Children, young people and adults can instigate bullying. The nature of bullying is changing and evolving as technology develops.

Bullying is harmful to all involved, not just the bullied, and can lead to self-doubt, lack of confidence, low self-esteem, depression, anxiety, self-harm and sometimes even suicide.

It is a child's right to feel safe at school and families expect children to feel safe at school. The ethos of our Catholic school encourages children and adults to care for each other and to regard bullying as unacceptable.

Though we primarily seek to protect children from bullying we know that bullying can take place between pupils, between pupils and staff, between staff or volunteers in school or between families. Pupils and adults should realise that bullying behaviour by anyone in St Peter's school community is not acceptable and is not to be tolerated.

Pupils and adults should feel willing and able to report bullying behaviour, confident that they will be listened to and that action will be taken to address and remedy the situation.

Aims and objectives

- We aim, as a school, to produce a safe and secure environment where all can learn without fear or anxiety.
- We aim to promote a culture where differences and commonalities are celebrated, and where there is no place for prejudice or discrimination.
- This policy aims to make sure that all those responsible for the welfare of our children are aware of the school's opposition to all forms of bullying.
- When an incident of bullying is reported all staff should be made aware of the situation so that they can take appropriate action, should there be any further incidents.

- All reported incidents of bullying will be treated seriously and investigated. Firm action will be taken against perpetrators of bullying.
- We aim to support all victims of bullying and to provide within our school a climate of trust and respect for all.
- Our aim is to make sure that all children are aware of the school's opposition to bullying and what they can do if they witness any incidents.
- We aim to take measures to prevent all kinds of bullying in school, including adults towards other adults and adults towards children.

Strategies to combat bullying.

Through the school mission statement, R.E. programme, circle time, PSHE lessons, RSH Education, classroom rules, prayer and liturgy and assemblies, children will be made aware of the seriousness in which all incidents of bullying are regarded.

All staff will make their own records of any bullying in the classroom or playground. These will be placed on our internal safeguarding and pastoral recording system, which is password-protected. The DSL and Deputy DSLs receive alerts via Email when concerns are logged on this system, and conversations between a DSL/ DDSL and the author of the report will take place as soon as possible after the report is made.

Midday assistants will report incidents to the class teacher and serious incidents to the head teacher.

The head teacher will be informed if the behaviour is repeated. Written records will be made of any incidents occurring at midday in the same way that they are recorded throughout the rest of the school day.

Where it would be in the child's best interests, in order to protect them from harm, the headteacher will make other staff aware of the situation, eg. staff on playground duty.

Children who bully will be made aware of the seriousness of their actions and appropriate sanctions will be applied. Children who bully will be coached to take action to begin to make amends for the situation, and to make more positive future behaviour choices.

In cases of serious or persistent bullying the head teacher will inform parents of both the victim and the perpetrator.

If a pupil persists in bullying they will be placed on our school register of children with special and additional needs (SEND register).

Outside agencies, including school's educational psychologist, will be asked for advice.

Consideration will be given to beginning an Early Help Assessment.

Good behaviour is rewarded and applauded by encouragement, praise and rewards, as stated in our Behaviour Policy.

Roles and Responsibilities

It is the responsibility of the Headteacher and Governors to implement the Anti-Bullying policy and to ensure that all staff (both teaching and non-teaching) are aware of the school policy and know how to deal with incidents of bullying. It is important to remember that all staff, pupils and parents have an active part to play in the maintenance of this policy.

This policy reflects current practice and should be read in conjunction with the following policies:
